Commissioners - Income Tax Vote to Spur Election Here

With contests in several of the county commissioners' districts, township offices, state and congressional seats and a city income tax to be voted on in the general primary election to be held on Tuesday, Aug. 4, one of the largest voter turnouts in Crawford County is expected.

Locally the off-year election is spurred mainly by the county commissioners balloting from an at-large election in 1968 to representative districts this time, plus the income tax vote.

All of the districts for county commissioners except two, city district four and county district seven, will have opposition either on the Republican ticket or the Democratic ticket.

Earl H. Longworth, Howard Taylor, Alfred Sorenson, Lawrence E. Gust and Fred Kauffman, present commissioners are seeking reelection.

District and candidates seeking the nomination for commissioners in November election include:

County District One — Ralph J. Sarraut, Dean Welch and George (Phil) Dunckley. All are seeking the nomination on the Democratic ticket, and reside in Frederic.

County District Two — Joseph S. Kozicki and Earl H. Longworth are seeking the Republican nomination, with John Horton and Clare Madsen Sr., opponents for the nomination on the Democratic side.

County District Three — Hal Walker is challenging Howard Taylor for the Republican nomination, while Bernard L. Maurer is unopposed on the Democratic ticket.

County District Four — Al Westervelt is unopposed on the Republican side, and no one filed for the Democratic ticket.

County District Five — Patricia Gale Hart was the only one to file for this district seat, but is being opposed by write-in candidate Leonard Knibbs for the nomination on the Republican ticket.

City District Six — Alfred (Bud) Sorenson and Lawrence E. Gust, both presently serving as commissioners, are opponents for the nomination on the Republican ticket. No one filed on the Democratic side.

County District Seven — Present commissioner Fred Kauffman is unopposed for the Republican nomination. Edith Paul is likewise unopposed on the Democratic side.

The various candidates seeking nomination for the several township offices are:

Beaver Creek Township — All the contests are on the Republican ticket. Frank DeWitt present Supervisor is being challenged by Walter Roe. For Clerk, three are in the running for the nomination, JoAnn Cooper, Elizabeth Klemp and Sheila Krayes. Andie Neilson is unopposed for the Treasurer's post. Margaret Griffith and John Peters are seeking the Trustee nomination. Four are in the running for the Constable post, they are, James Black-hurst, Harold D. Helsel, Jerry Krayes and Herman J. Miller.

In Maple Forest Township there is no opposition, with Stanley S. Hummel and Carrie Baynham up for reelection for Supervisor and Clerk respectively on the Democratic ticket and Martha Petersen, Harold Babbitt and Larry Baynham on the Republican side for the offices of Treasurer, Trustee and Constable respectively.

A similar situation exists in Frederic Township except for the post of Constable, where Larry Curtis Haas and Larry Love are seeking the nomination for Constable on the Democratic ticket.

Charles I. Ennis, Supervisor, Viola Middleton, Treasurer, and Alan Leng, Trustee have no opposition on the Republican ticket. Mildred Harmer, Clerk, and John J. Mertes, Trustee are unopposed on the Democratic side.

Lovells Township will have to elect a Supervisor on a write-in basis as no one filed for the office presently held by William Miller. Democrats Connie Kaiser, Clerk, and Marie E. Dudy, Trustee are unopposed as are Evelyn Bates, Clerk; Merle W. Hartman, Treasurer; Leonard G. Nausbaum, Trustee and Bernhart J. Mundt, Constable on the Republican ticket.

In Grayling Township, one contest appears on the Republican ticket, as Evelyn Gardiner is challenging incumbent Eureka Stephan for the nomination for the office of Treasurer. Supervisor Bernard Fowler and Robert M. Hayes, Clerk, are unopposed on the GOP side. Clare Madsen, Jr., is also unopposed for the office of Trustee on the Democratic ticket.

There are no contests in South Branch Township, as Richard C. Schaeffer, Supervisor, Lois G. Murphy, Clerk, Bertha E. LeLine Treasurer and Albert R. Murphy, Constable, all Republicans are unopposed as is Arthur O'Connor for Trustee on the Democratic ticket.

On the state side, Crawford

County voters will cast their nomination ballots for the office of Governor, United States Senator, Representative in Congress, 10th District, State Senator, 36th District and Representative in State Legislature, 103rd District.

For Governor, Democrats will choose between Zolton Ferency, Sander Levin, George F. Montgomery and George N. Parris as their standard bearer in the November election to oppose present Governor William G. Milliken who has opposition from James C. Turner for the GOP nomination.

Philip A. Hart incumbent State Senator is unopposed on the Democratic ticket, with a hot battle expected for the Republican nomination with Robert J. Huber opposing Lenore Romney for the right to challenge Senator Hart in November.

Republican incumbent, Congressman Elford A. Cederberg is unopposed in the Primary, with Bennie D. Graves and Gerald J. Parent, seeking the nomination to represent the Democratic Party for the office in the 10th District in November.

State Senator, 36th District, John F. Toepp is being challenged for the nomination on the Republican ticket by Marshall A. Brehm. Erika Belmoor is unopposed for the Senators nomination on the Democratic ticket.

Republicans will choose between four candidates for the nomination of Representative in the Legislature for the 103rd District, to replace Nelson Tisdale, incumbent who is not seeking reelection. Candidates seeking the GOP spot on the November ballot are: Louis K. Cramton, George W. Case, Jr., Rodney E. Parker and Leroy W. Wahl.

Democrat Thomas M. Byron is unopposed on the Democrat side of the ballot.

Voters will receive a delegate ballot, for write-in candidates to the County Convention's of each party.

Residents of the City of Grayling will also decide at the August 4th election on two propositions.

Proposition One is to determine if the city is to impose a one percent resident and a one-half percent non-resident working in Grayling income tax, which the revenue derived will be used for city roads and street work.

Proposition Two is to determine if the City of Grayling shall borrow $210,000 and issue its general obligation bonds for the purpose of improvements to the sewage disposal system.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the various township halls in the county and in Grayling City Hall.

The Avalanche once again will carry the county and city maps showing the representative districts for the County Commissioners. You will find them on page 7 of this issue.

Senior Graduation Pictures

Northland Studio of Gaylord has been contracted to be the photographer for the graduating class of 1970-71.

Northland Studio will be contacting each senior regarding the time and place of your sitting. Any senior who does not receive an appointment in the next two weeks should contact Carol Wert, the local representative for Northland Studios.

There were three prime reasons why Northland was selected for this year.

Northland provides complete color service, they are a local firm and Mr. Wert, living in Grayling, will be handy to take pictures of school events for the year book.

I hope parents and seniors will be happy with Northland's work and we can continue to have them do our photographic work. Charles R. Batway, principal

Blood Saves Lives

When the Red Cross Bloodmobile visits Grayling on July 29, 1970, you will probably ask yourself, why should I give my blood to the Red Cross. Many people at one time or another have asked this same question. Unfortunately, many have not thought out its answer.

When you give blood at a Red Cross bloodmobile, you are not giving your blood to the Red Cross, you are giving it THROUGH the Red Cross. You are giving it TO your friends, neighbors, and maybe someone in your own family.

Because you live in Crawford County, which participates in the Lansing Regional Red Cross Blood Program, the total blood needs of you, your immediate family, and your fellow county residents are covered, whether the need arises at home or away.

The blood program is everyone's organization. When you go to the bloodmobile, you will see both professional staff nurses and people from your own community working together to insure that blood is available when it is needed.

Blood can only be available when a person gives it. Doctors cannot make this life-saving substance with a machine. It can only be available if many people in Crawford County volunteer their time to organize and operate your blood program.

"What is your stake in this blood program?" you ask. You say that you have never needed blood. Even if you can disregard the fact that someday you might need blood, you will not be able to disregard this fact: having donated blood and realized that you have literally helped save a life, you won't be able to hide the happy feeling that makes you glad to be alive! You will be able to make your life giving donation on July 29, 1970 at Legion Hall, Grayling anytime between 1:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. If you have any questions, please call 348-3402, your local blood chairman.

AuSable Property Owners Urge Stricter Canoe Regulations

GRAYLING, MICH. — Stringent controls governing the use of canoes on the AuSable River were proposed yesterday by the president of a local property owners association here.

In his annual message to members of the AuSable River system Property Owners Association, Harrison Goodhue, president, called for "whatever action is necessary" to make sure that operation of canoes on the river will be regulated to prevent littering and vandalism.

Mr. Goodhue listed several proposed regulations that he said were aimed at curbing what he called the "inexcusably bad behavior" of a minority of canoeists. "It is fortunate that to date there have been no serious injuries or fatal accidents as a result of this behavior," he said.

Included in the proposals is one that calls for improved legal identification of all canoes on the river either by local or state regulations. The property owners also will seek to have canoe licenses require that all canoe renters furnish positive identification — such as drivers license — which can be permanently recorded together with the canoe identification number.

Other proposals call for property owners to insist that the courts adequately apply the penalties that the law provides in successful prosecutions of violations.

One Person Critical

Three Die In Two Separate Auto Crashes

Three persons were killed in Crawford County Tuesday afternoon and one person is in critical condition, within about 2 hours time, in two separate accidents.

At approximately 3 o'clock, two sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Skagerberg, 53, of Roscommon and Mrs. Margaret Spielmacher, 55, Plainwell, Mich., were killed in a two-car crash at the intersection of Military and Fletcher Roads in Beaver Creek Township, Crawford County Sheriff's Deputies said.

Both women were pronounced dead at the scene by county coroner, Derek McEvers.

Within about two hours, approximately 4:55, Mrs. Monet was killed in an accident on M-76. (Photo at bottom of page).

According to the Crawford County Sheriff's Dept., Mrs. Skagerberg was the driver of the one car in the Military-Fletcher Road crash, and Heather Stribley, 22, of Mason, Mich., was driver of the other vehicle. She was reported in critical condition, and was taken to Munson Hospital in Traverse City.

The sheriff's department was investigating both accidents at the time the Avalanche went to press.

The Indiana governor will be joined by U.S. Rep. Richard L. Roudebush and John T. Myers, both Indiana Republicans. Roudebush is his party's nominee for the U.S. Senate. Theodore Sendak, Indiana Attorney General, and Trudy S. Etherton, Indiana Auditor, plan to take part. The group of visitors also will include several Hoosier legislators and newsmen.

Their hosts at Camp Grayling are Maj. Gen. Kenneth W. Brewer, commanding general of the 38th Infantry Division, and Brig. Gen. John N. Owens, Indiana Adjutant General. The visitors will observe first-hand the combat training undertaken by the division's units.

Local Teacher Receives MSU Grant

Word was received earlier this week that Howard Taylor, local high school Director of Vocal Music and Community School Director, has been selected as one of one hundred and four recipients in five states to receive a grant from Michigan State University.

In receiving this grant, Mr. Taylor has been designated as a State Extern in an MSU project entitled Extern Network of Adult Basic Education Leaders, better known as Project ENABEL. This project is being conducted by Michigan State University in cooperation with other Departments of Education in Michigan and five other states and with the United States Office of Education.

As a State Extern in Project ENABEL, Mr. Taylor will be a principal animator of a program which will enlist more than 2,000 teachers, counselors and directors of adult education. The purpose of the program is to increase and improve adult education for more than 3 million adults and out of school youths whose low levels of education deny them many of the necessities and most of the privileges of first class citizenship.

Mr. Taylor's selection as a Project ENABEL Extern is based upon his past leadership and dedication in the field of education. He will also continue his role in the local school system.

Cederberg's Aide to Miss This Month

Congressman Elford A. Cederberg's district staff man, Walter Nakula, will not be making his regular monthly visits to the courthouse in August. Congressman Cederberg's liaison man will resume his normal schedule in September.

Senior Citizens

Are here 10 more Crawford County Senior Citizens who would like to go to Mackinaw on Sept. 6, 7 and 8? Call Lora Gould at 348-9314 immediately.

On Wednesday, civic leaders from the Grayling, Houghton Lake and Prudenville areas were scheduled to join with the Guardsmen for "Civic Day" observances. The itinerary included a mid-afternoon briefing session, demonstrations of training activities and a reception. Gen. Brewer was to address the group. The final event on the day's program was a hog roast. One highlight of Friday's division review will be presentation of awards to outstanding individuals and units.

The camp will have several military dignitaries on hand during the training period. Although schedules aren't firm, plans call for visits by Lt. Gen. V. P. Mock, Commanding General, Fifth U.S. Army, Lt. Gen. William R. Peers, chief of reserve components, Department of the Army; Maj. Gen. W. S. Ryan, Deputy Commanding General for reserve forces, Fifth U.S. Army, and Brig. Gen. Leonard C. Ward, Deputy Chief, Army, National Guard Bureau.

Among the 11,500 National Guardsmen and Army Reservists now in training are 3,000 officers and enlisted men from Michigan. The Michigan contingent is the 46th Brigade, commanded by Col. Harry J. Sobotka and headquartered at Wyoming. All branches of the military are represented by companies and batteries from throughout Michigan. Support units of military police, engineers, medics, ordnance and administrative personnel complete the roster of the 46th Brigade.

The last phase of summer training for the Michigan National Guard started last weekend as Michigan's 46th Brigade joined units of Indiana's 38th Infantry Division for two weeks of intensive training at Camp Grayling's 30,000 sprawling, wooded acres.

Colonel Harry J. Sobotka, commander of the 46th Brigade, predicted "The best camp ever" as 3,000 officers and enlisted men from Michigan poured into "tent city".

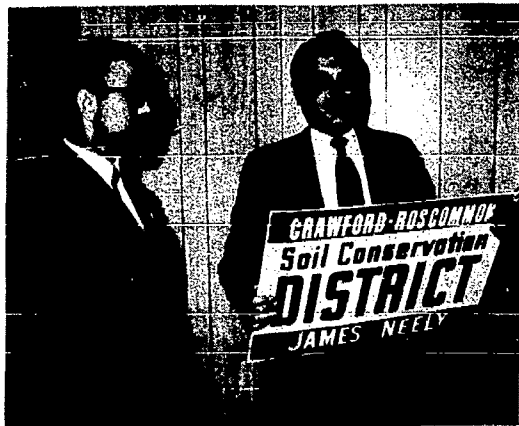

The 46th Brigade, with headquarters at the Grand Valley Armory in Wyoming, is made up of units of the 3rd Bn., 124th Infantry, 1st Bn., 124th Infantry, with headquarters in Flint; units of the 1st Bn., 246th Armored, and 1st Bn., 119th Artillery.

All branches of the military will be represented by companies and batteries from all sections of MP's, engineers, administrative personnel, medics and mechanics will complete the roster of the 46th Brigade.

The summer encampment will climax 45 training sessions at the home armories and test the lessons learned in the army classrooms. Emphasis will be placed on field training with all personnel spending four days bivouaced in the field.

The focal point of field training is operations on the plateau level. Insofar as possible, Guardsmen simulate the conditions they would operate under if they were in combat. They will utilize their annual field training to perfect basic combat skills of marksmanship, camouflage, chemical warfare, assault tactics, night attacks, defense techniques and field sanitation.

OCEAN'S EDGE
OCEAN'S EDGE
OCEAN'S EDGE

Yesterday I saw the ocean for the first time. Jim and I had been invited to a house party at a cottage on the shore. Having recently moved East from the Midwest, I had anticipated nothing more on the drive down than a weekend of fun and games, swimming and dancing.

But I wasn't prepared for the ocean. Its grandeur and beauty stirred me. Today I walked along the beach for long hours watching the waves or searching the shore for shells, listening to the wonderful roar of the sea as whitecaps splashed around me.

Tonight as I stood at ocean's edge, the stars seemed near. Breakers crashing rhythmically sprinkled phosphorescence on the sand. For an instant I was caught within infinity. Sky, beach and tides contained me—in that moment I saw God.

I may never again achieve the clarity of that second on the beach, but someday I may. For this experience has awakened in me a longing to know more about God and the Truths the beauty of His world reveal.

Fast Growing Threat

The federal Social Security System was never intended to be more than a supplement to old age retirement plans. Private pensions and private savings are basic to the perpetuation of the private property, free enterprise system, as we have known it in this country.

The Council of State Chambers of Commerce warns, "The future of private pension plans is jeopardized as the Social Security program with its rapidly rising taxable wage base, tax rate, and employer-employee costs increasingly shifts from its original purpose as a basic floor of protection to a basic retirement system. Capital formation in this country will be threatened if private pension programs are superseded by an expanding Social Security program. Private pension programs are now a major source of capital for economic growth."

Everyday, we read of the billions of dollars that must be spent by industry to keep up with the needs of U.S. citizens. If these billions of dollars of investment capital cannot be secured from private citizens, where is industry to get them? Once private citizens become wards of the government, industry must also become a ward of the government, forced to go with hat in hand to the taxpayer for the capital to build new plants. All-out welfareism and socialism are different sides of the same coin.

BREVARD, N.C., TRANSYLVANIA TIMES: "It's tragic that people are oftentimes 'taken in' by slick operators who go door-to-door selling various types of products and/or services. It would, of course, be unfair to make a blanket indictment of all door-to-door salesmen. Some are honest and represent established companies. The best advice, when a person is approached by a stranger representing an unknown company, is to investigate the salesman and the company . . . before buying whatever is being offered for sale."

Tourist Council Approves Reduced Advertising Budget

LANSING — The Michigan Tourist Council will invest some $350,000 in media advertising to promote the state's vacation travel attractions during fiscal 1971. Meeting July 9-10 in Muskegon, the Council approved the new budget, which represents a nine percent decrease from 1969-70.

A nine pound son, William Charles, was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Green, Tuesday, July 22.

Colonel Wallace, who has been popular among the officers at the Military Reservation every year, will not be with us this year. At present he is at the Philippine Islands.

To compliment Albert Grouloff of Muncie, Ind., who is a guest in the city, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Herbinson entertained 18 gentlemen friends Saturday evening. The evening was spent visiting and reminiscing. Mr. Grouloff having been a citizen of Grayling many years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bromwell and Miss Hilda Nielsen, who have been resorting at Hubbard Lake, motored to Grayling Wednesday and are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Will Heric.

Miss Helena Cook returned to Detroit Saturday, after a week's visit at the cottage of her sister, Mrs. William Green, at Lake Margrethe.

"The new budget allocations not only mean less money for regional and national media advertising purchases, further reductions in advertising are indicated because of rising costs in all media," stated Ron Gamble, Council chairman.

"The Council's advertising campaign annually generates thousands of inquiries for vacation travel literature," Gamble said. "In view of the reduced advertising program, a corresponding reduction in literature requests is anticipated. This could result in fewer people visiting Michigan, which, in turn, could mean a substantial decrease in tourist tax dollars for the state coffers."

In addition to allocating funds for advertising, the Council authorized its staff to spend about $48,000 on other publicity and promotion activities. Staff responsibilities include a direct mail advertising program and servicing the state and national new media with photographs, travel news and feature stories about Michigan's many vacation travel attractions.

New Tourist Council advertisements, as well as most literature, will carry a brand new slogan, "The Michigans — the Almost Islands of the Great Lakes," pointing out that the nation's only two-part state is virtually surrounded by the Great Lakes.

- ☆ Four years Director, State Technical Services, Central Michigan University, helping small businessmen in northern lower Michigan.
- ☆ College degrees in business and law.
- ☆ Veteran of four years active military duty (Navy) and 12 years active reserve.
- ☆ Civic involvement in park and recreation and civil defense programs.

CANDIDATES AND ISSUES:

There are no simple solutions to the complex problems facing Michigan in the 1970's. Catch phrases in the form of gleaming generalities may appeal to the emotions but do not solve the problems. What is needed is a person who can make an intelligent assessment of the problems and make decisions based upon good judgement and sound reasoning to accomplish practical objectives.

ROD PARKER is such a person.

During the past month you have seen sizeable advertisements in the weekly newspapers by one opponent. Compare ROD PARKER'S position and background on some of those issues mentioned.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING:

Cramton — I would like to fight on the floor of the House of Representatives against unnecessary spending.

PARKER — Ten years of accounting, auditing and management involving multi-million dollar government programs have provided ROD PARKER with the background and ability to determine necessary and reasonable government spending by profession. Four years experience helping businessmen in northern lower Michigan has provided him with an understanding of the area problems. ROD has also coordinated and participated in "value analysis" programs which will give him additional insight into the implementation of current programs to improve the management and efficiency of the state government.

RESTRUCTURING EDUCATIONAL FINANCING:

Cramton — I favor removal of the school operational costs from the property tax to the state income tax.

PARKER — Property tax support of education has been complicated by the assessment problems we have had over the past three years. Some schools have been the victims of taxpayer resentment. State income taxes indirectly support education now, in that they go into the general fund. Before we impose a greater tax directly on the wage earner in the form of increased income taxes we should explore possible alternatives to stabilize the support of education. One possibility might be providing a greater return of the present sales tax collections to local government. Local tax options should be available to the citizens.

COMMUNICATIONS and CREDIBILITY:

Cramton — 7/22/70. I will give you straight answers on where I stand on the issues.

PARKER — Credibility is vital to a public official in communicating with those he serves. During the week of July 12, 1970, my opponent published lists of "Volunteers for Cramton" in the eight weekly newspapers in the district. Because some of the names listed were persons helping me in my campaign we did some checking and found nearly thirty persons in four counties whose names were published without knowledge or permission. We did not check out the entire list. We ask Candidate Cramton for a straight answer on where he stands on the issue of integrity.

PROPERTY TAXES:

Cramton — 7/70. Property tax reduction (no details).

PARKER — Property tax reduction means either an increase in other taxes or a curtailment of local government services.

POLLUTION:

Cramton — 7/15/70. Stricter pollution control (no details).

PARKER — We should insure that current research funds are adequate and that the 335 million dollar clean water bonds and other pollution control funds are well spent. The Governor's 20 point program for restoring our environment has been made after much research and seems plausible.

TAX ASSESSMENT:

Cramton — 7/15/70. Fair tax assessment. (no details).

PARKER — Governor Millikin has proposed a $280,000 program to train and assist local tax assessors in determining more uniform and equitable property assessments. This program seems plausible. Experts and citizens agree that taxpayers are getting their moneys worth for present assessment efforts in most cases. If the citizens want full time assessors they must realize that this will cost more in property taxes.

More than 700 papers, workshop groups, discussions and seminars are planned by the Association's 16 sections on dental health, engineering and sanitation, epidemiology, food and nutrition, health officers, laboratory, maternal and child health, medical care, mental health, occupational health, public health education, nursing, radiology, statistics and community health planning.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:
Time is short and election is near and it's time to say a few words in regards to it and reading the last Avalanche news in regards to what the council is to do with the money in case that this election goes through.

This is the first time the council did say something worth while, that the money will be spent for the need of the city. I did not vote the income tax the last election, but since they say the specific spending of the money will be for the things we really do need.

I need not say that there were promises and more promises since I lived here for the last 52 years and have seen plenty of things. I don't blame this council entirely for everything, but this is today not years gone and things are not all according to hoyle.

No. 1, we sold our electric light plant, money was to be spent for our street improvements. Was it? We had better streets when we had no road scrapers or all the equipment we have today.

No. 2, We got an old age project, this I have nothing against and it was supposed to be a Federal project but it is not. Every taxpayer is going to pay for it. This is something you will have to use your judgement on, and try it again. And the council condemns more land to do this and tries to put more people in a square mile by dispossessing people of homes that they lived in for years doesn't sound sensible to me. And they just tell the people that they are paying for their homes is a laugh. It's like robbing Paul to pay Peter or vice versa and I do hope that the citizens take a good look at things for in time they will have to pay for it.

I haven't yet seen anyone that made money or was given money for nothing unless he earned it by labor and the sweat of his brow. As I have mentioned, our limited space of the city limits today, I just wonder if the council would try to get the city limits extended and incorporate with the outlying suburban area and see what happens? So now with this coming election I believe it is something different! We do need the improvement to our streets very bad, as well as the change of our disposal plant, which is something that has to be done or we are in hot water with the DNR. This sure means money but it will be well spent for our benefit as well as for the people that use the river for recreation, so let's try and keep our most prized possessions as should be. I myself, make a plea that we vote for both projects which will benefit all of us.

Sincerely yours,
George J. Bielski, Sr.

TROPHY BOW AWARD — Fred Bear, President of the Bear Archery Company, presents a Bear trophy bow with an engraved nameplate to Sergeant Gerald R. McKinney, Detroit, winner of the Michigan National Guard's Stewart Medal for 1970. The medal, named in honor of Brigadier General Earl R. Stewart, is presented annually to the individual enlisted man of the Michigan National Guard judged to be most outstanding in military appearance, bearing, and knowledge of basic military subjects. A bonus for the Stewart Medal winner, who was honored at a Grayling Chamber of Commerce luncheon last Friday (July 24) was both the display bow shown and a regular "Kodiak Hunter" hunting bow.

The award will be presented during the summer meeting of the association which will be held in Alpena August 21 and 22. This is the second state recognition to be received by the District in recent weeks.

Student winners of conservation scrapbook contests on the local level will also be given state awards in Alpena.

18-YEAR-OLDS CAN'T SERVE THIS YEAR

LANSING — Even though a recently-passed legislative measure gives 18-year-olds a chance to serve as delegates to county political conventions, young eligibles interested in these jobs shouldn't "sweat them" this year.

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare, the bill, passed July 10, does not take effect until 90 days after the Legislature adjourns.

County conventions must be held between August 12 and August 23, less than one month off. Hare said there had been "a great deal of confusion over this new law and that elections officials of the Michigan Department of State had received many inquiries from young persons interested in qualifying as county delegates."

Deadline of May 26 for filing nominating petitions for delegates to county conventions is long past. Under law, delegates may run as write-in candidates in the August 4 primary or may be appointed to vacancies by county convention wherever they exist. But the new law does not permit persons from 18-21 years of age to qualify this year under these provisions.

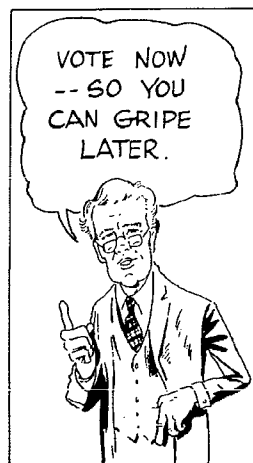

Sometimes Zoning Boards Have To Say No

By Willard Bosserman
County Extension Director

Sometimes zoning boards have to say no to requests for zoning changes. The board has to take into consideration the soil type. Soils which are too wet due to high water table do not make good building sites. Zoning boards will not approve such land for residential use.

Most zoning ordinances are based upon a plan. One aspect of the plan is to avoid non-compatible uses being developed side by side. When some one requests a zoning change which would permit a use which would not be compatible with the existing use, the board has to refuse the request.

Too many subdivisions have been developed which cause problems to the home owners. County and township planning and zoning is designed to prevent such developments. It gives prospective home buyers protection.

1640 Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q I read that if you add a front porch to your house the cost is deductible. Is that right?

A No, the cost is not deductible. The cost, however, can be added to the basis of your house and taken into account in determining your gain or loss on any future sale.

Ordinary and routine maintenance costs around the house, such as painting and repairs are not deductible. Only when the expense adds to the value of the house or increases its life do tax considerations arise.

Q I filed my return 3 months ago and my refund still hasn't come. What should I do?

A Write your regional IRS service center or call your local IRS office. Be sure to give your Social Security number, name, address, and when your return was filed. This information is needed to trace your return.

Most refund claims have already been processed and the checks mailed out.

Q I was married last month and plan to continue working for another year or so. Should I make any change in my tax withholding?

A You may want to file a new withholding certificate with your employer claiming married status. This will reduce your withholding.

However, many married couples who both are employed elect to have tax withheld from each of them as a "single" person to avoid owing large additional amounts of tax at the end of the year. If you plan to file a joint return for the year, as most couples do, your final tax liability will not be affected regardless of whether you or your husband claims your personal exemption.

Q My daughter started to work last month, but she still lives at home. Will we still be able to claim her as a dependent?

A It depends on whether she still meets the dependency tests. For instance, you must provide over half of her total support for the year. Regarding her earnings, if they amount to $625 or more you cannot claim her unless she is under 19 at year end or a full-time student for any five months of the year.

Jack Pine Crown Fires Pose Major Threat In Five County Area

LANSING—A five-county area in the northern Lower Peninsula constitutes the greatest single concern of forest fire officials of the Department of Natural Resources.

Robert J. Compeau, Chief of the Forest Fire Division, explained that a crown fire sweeping through the tops of jack pine which dominate the forests of the area could be disastrous.
"Not only would such a fire destroy trees and wildlife, but it would burn countless summer homes and could result in the loss of human life," said Com-peau.

"We are well prepared to combat fire on the ground, but a crown fire is something else. If the tops of jack pine trees are ignited, the flames could spread so fast we couldn't keep up with them. This is the situation that has developed in the general area of the AuSable River."
It includes roughly, Crawford, Roscommon, Ogemaw and Osoda counties and, to the west, Kalkaska County. "Our fingers are crossed," said Compeau, "in the hopes that we can control the initial ground fires before they spread to the tops."

"Cooperation of the public which has always been excellent, is especially important where the danger of crown fire exists," said Compeau.

He explained that the Department's fire-fighting organization covers all of Michigan with manpower and equipment "on the ready" at 60 field offices; 21 in the Upper and 39 in the Lower Peninsula. Serving these in fire detection are eight Department aircraft in the Upper Peninsula including a helicopter and two privately-owned planes on contract. Six Department planes are assigned to fire detection in the northern Lower Peninsula where two Beaver aircraft are used in fire control as water bombers. In the southern Lower Peninsula two aircraft are used in fire detection.

Fire towers have been all but eliminated from the Department's forest fire organization, according to Compeau. Only six are manned this year; all of them in remote parts of the Upper Peninsula.

Bit by bit... every litter bit hurts!

Estimate 106,650 Firearm Deer Kill in 1969

LANSING — A Department of Natural Resources preliminary summary of the 1969 firearm deer season shows an estimated kill of 106,650 animals, compared with 101,540 for 1968. Included in last year's figure were 66, 210 bucks and 40,440 antlerless deer. The year earlier totals were 64,250 bucks and 37,290
antlerless.

Reflected in the increased kill for 1969 is a rise in license sales to an estimated 653,850; an all-time high and 30,270 more than were sold in 1968.

Computerized tabulation, now under way, of a postcard survey of hunting license buyers will provide statistics on the 1969 firearm deer season. Meanwhile, Department technicians report the following preliminary figures for the Upper Peninsula and the northern and southern Lower Peninsula:

An estimated 20,810 deer were taken in the Upper Peninsula; 12,660 bucks and 8,150 antlerless. The year previous total was 26,720 including 14,830 bucks and 11,890 antlerless.

Last year's kill for the northern Lower Peninsula was an estimated 69,530 of which 41,710 were bucks and 27,820 antlerless. The 1968 figures were: total kill, 61,110; bucks, 37,750;
antlerless, 23,360.

An estimated 16,310 deer were taken in the southern Lower Peninsula in 1969; 11,840 bucks, 4,470 antlerless. This compares with the year earlier 13,710 total with 11,870 bucks, 2,040 antlerless.

Voice of the People

1970 MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

By Thomas Frederick Koernke
President, Class of 1970

In the spring of 1966 I graduated as valedictorian of a class of five from Frederic High School in Frederic, Mich. That fall I joined with 8000 fellow freshmen in forming the class of 1970 at Michigan State University. When I arrived on campus the problems of the ghetto were not mine. Lovells, Mich., was a long way from the ghetto. Now, the problems of the sick, the poor, the overburdened taxpayer, the aged, and minority groups are all my problems. This is quite an attitude change. The change also indicated an expansion of my realm of interests and ideas. The experience of four college years produced this change. Classroom activity afforded me the basic factual grounding necessary to form pertinent opinions on the overriding issues of the day. Interaction with members of the faculty and fellow students allowed me to test and reevaluate these opinions. This interaction process yields as its product an individual who should be ready to take part in governing the system that educated him.

Currently, in our governmental system winning is everything. Fifty per cent plus one is the magic number. The individual or minority is often suppressed by the majority. Unfortunately, response has often taken the form of attempts by minorities to oppress the majority. These attempts at minority oppression are similar to waving a red flag at a charging bull. You antagonize the beast, you certainly do not provoke any meaningful reflection on the possibilities of compromise on his part and you are liable to get trampled. You may have all the right answers in the world but if you take them to the grave with you — what good are they?

But assuming one sees a problem, what should he do then? The theory that "the government can solve our problems — we needn't worry" has been proven wrong. It will take each and everyone of you directing the government or individually aiding the government to solve the complex problems of the final 30 years of this century. We either survive or perish, and the answer lies with you. Each person must decide what role he will play in this world, but the person who is an isolationist from human suffering and devastation will contribute more to the destruction of our planet than the extremists of the left or the right.

For the last two or three years students all over this country have been attempting to point out to you the adults some of America's inequities as exemplified by your foreign and domestic policies that have wasted our natural and human resources. I say these are your policies because you have stood by while the decisions were being made and were acquiescent even though you may have had some doubts. This does not mean that we students have all the answers, anyone who thinks so is dogmatic, but we are trying to face these problems and come to some solution. Those who advocate tearing down the system and do not suggest any replacement are wrong, but they have made us aware of problems. Solutions to these problems will not be easy to find. What should we do then?

1) We can clean up our land — you can do more by not throwing trash from your car on our streets and roads, than all the governmental action put together. But you have to think and do it.

2) You can do as much to clean up our lakes and streams by using some form of waste disposal container in any boat you use, than all the governmental action. But you have to think and do it.

3) You as an individual citizen can now bring suit against a corporation for pollution. But you have to do it.

4) You can bring about change in governmental policy by taking a stand on such controversial issues as the war, abortion reform, public aid to private schools, drugs, 18 year old vote, environmental control, and letting your representatives in government know what your position is. But you have to think and do it.

Become involved! And make your decisions on the basis of logic and reason; not emotionalism.

BITS O' TALK

Mr. and Mrs. William Larush had as their guests last weekend their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Perry and daughter Kelly of Lowell. While here they also visited her parents, the Arnold Hubbell family.

I Want to be

YOUR MAN

In Lansing

If I am granted the privilege of serving as your employee and spokesman in state government, I will do my best to take the word "representative" seriously. I will never attempt to tell you, the citizens I represent, what is right or wrong, or what is best for you. Instead, in deciding to oppose or support each and every proposed measure, I will invariably ask myself, "Where do the people of my district stand on this?"

I look upon government, not as a superstructure to be imposed upon a society and its economy, but as a means of activating the full resources of society, and by which those resources can be focused upon society's problems. I will regard your needs and your rights as my personal responsibility. And at all times, your majority will shall be my strength.

To work for you in this way, which is the only way I know, I ask your endorsement at the polls on August 4th.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Primary Upsets? Maybe One!

It's sneaking up on the Michigan voter, quietly but quickly—the Aug. 4 primary to name the candidates of the various parties for statewide election on Nov. 6.

It has not been an exciting primary, and—except to those who are directly involved—it is not an especially important primary.

At stake are the nominations of the Democrats and Republicans for governor and United States senator. These are the only state-wide races. Of course, localized primaries in many areas of the state are attracting considerably more heat as candidates are selected to fill congressional, legislative, county and township offices.

But statewide, the competition is limited to three races. Incumbent Democratic Sen. Philip A. Hart has no primary opposition.

Alongside Hart, the Democrats will choose among four men for the governor's nomination—Zolton Ferency, Sander Levin, George F. Montgomery, and George N. Parris.

On the Republican side of the ledger, Gov. William G. Milliken is challenged by James C. Turner for the GOP nomination for governor.

Lenore Romney and Robert J. Huber are the two Republican hopefuls for the senate nomination to oppose Hart.

There is not much of national significance involved in Michigan's primary. It is not a referendum on the Vietnam war, or on President Nixon's international or economic policies, for example.

The primary is not really a conservative-versus-liberal selection either, for that matter.

Instead, it boils down in all three state-wide cases primarily to an issue of personalities.

How do you choose, for example, among Ferency, Levin, Montgomery and Parris for governor, if you're voting the Democratic ticket? The big basic issues do not separate the candidates to any perceptible degree—or if they do, it has not become overly apparent to the rank-and-file voters.

If any of the four becomes governor, we would guess they will run the office about the same way on the substantive matters—differences, of course, in methods and styles, but not much difference in substance.

On the face of it, it would appear that Levin—with the backing of most of the large, well-heeled labor organizations—has the definite edge in this primary. Ferency, however, may surprise; Montgomery and Parris are a toss-up for last place.

Turning to the Milliken-Turner matter, we would be surprised if Turner racks up any sizable vote at all, and we would be amazed beyond comprehension if Turner should win.

Turner is liable to garner some votes from those Republicans who are fed up to here with Milliken, and from still others who see Turner as a way to end rather hazily-defined questionable practices in government at any level; that is to say that to some, Turner comes across as a crusader. But my soundings indicate his imprint throughout the state has been meager at best.

The real sleeper for an upset might well be the senate race between Mrs. Romney and Huber. Again, the broad issues do not greatly separate the candidates. Both tend to agree with Nixon policies—at least, neither is campaigning as an anti-Nixon senator.

The Romney-Huber campaign is not a Republican referendum on national policy, then; instead, it is primarily a personality contest, with Huber running about equal portions against Lenore, against her husband, and for Huber; while Lenore is running about equal portions as a woman, and as a specific woman, against Hart, and with just a smidgeon lately of anti-Huber campaigning.

Mrs. Romney should win; I would be surprised if she didn't. But I would not be dumbfounded if Huber should end up ahead in a squeaker.

Why? No specific scientific reasons. Just call it a man's intuition.

"If It Fitz . . ." — Violence At The Drive-In

By Jim Fitzgerald

This is about violence or the generation gap or, maybe, just bugs. You figure it out.

On the 4th night of a beach vacation, our family finally grew tired of telling lies about how nice it was without TV. We decided to go to the nearest drive-in movie, no matter what was on.

The marquee said "The Losers," which meant nothing to us.

"It must be a movie about husbands," I told my wife.

"If it is, the children shouldn't be allowed to see it," she answered.

As it turned out, no one should be allowed to see it. It's one of those motorcycle films that are currently turning kids on. I'd never seen one before. Gee, I thought, this is my chance to broaden my perspective and reach out across the generation gap. Maybe I'll learn what that kid was trying to tell me last month when he tore up my lawn with his motorcycle.

(Also, I thought very quietly, maybe there'll be a little nudity for turning older men on).

But no, no, no. It was all shooting and slugging and bombing mixed in with a great spinning of wheels and roaring of motors. There was a little sex but every time a guy found the right-on girl, he got a bullet in the head and she got his blood all over her best skin.

The plot was about how these guys on motorcycles won an important battle in Vietnam. Only maybe they lost it. It didn't really matter, because no one knew whose side they were on anyway. The important thing was the moral: the uptight establishment shouldn't misjudge these muddy youths simply because they wear earrings and continually kick people in the groin. Everyone must do his thing.

But I couldn't stomach all that violence. My attention wandered to the car windows where many bugs were bumping against the glass, trying to get inside. These are power windows which can be controlled by the driver. I began to play a fascinating game. I'd lower a window a crack. When a bug would start to enter, I'd shoot the window up, trying to squash it.

This gave me a feeling of real power. By employing great dexterity, I could work 4 windows at once, thus tantalizing and abusing dozens of bugs. They had no way of knowing they were up against a master fiend, heh, heh, heh.

My wife and kids wanted to know what the devil I was doing.

"I'm doing my thing," I answered. "Besides, I don't like the movie. It's too violent."

I'd never kick a mosquito in the groin.

The Picturephone Is Here

The picturephone, developed by the Bell System, is now being offered to customers in Pittsburgh. Early growth is expected to be confined mainly to business customers, according to Guy Accentura, vice president, manufacturing, Western Electric Company.

He said that within the next few years, Chicago, New York, Washington, Detroit, Cleveland, Newark and Philadelphia will be serviced. By 1975, it is expected that it will be available in 24 cities.

This service can be made available only to customers with Touch-Tone service whose local telephone offices have added special Picturephone video equipment.

SPACE and AERONAUTICS

MOON PROPERTY — Here's a real estate guide if you're thinking of buying a little property on the Moon. This is what the experts look for: Five lunar areas have been selected by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and two of these areas have already been explored—the Sea of Tranquility by the first men to put down on the moon, Neil Armstrong, and "Buzz" Aldrin. And an area in the Ocean of Storms was explored by Astronauts "Pete" Conrad and Alan Bean, the second group to put down on the Moon.

A third area called Frau Mauro was scheduled for exploration by the Apollo 13 crew but their ill-fated flight didn't get them there.

In the selection of these five areas, here's what the lunar real estate experts took into consideration in making their selections.

First of all the areas must be smooth, relatively free of craters and boulders.

There should be no large hills, high cliffs, or deep craters which would block or interfere with the approach path of a landing spacecraft or the radar signals of the spacecraft. You'll recall that Neil Armstrong took manual control of his lunar lander in the last split seconds of his approach to the Moon to avoid landing in or near a crater.

The lunarscape should be so located as to allow for the least amount of fuel consumption in the spacecraft's lunar module propulsion systems, or you're not going to make it to the Moon and back.

And, for a safe approach and landing, the general slope of the area must be less than two degrees.

Then there's the matter of correct lighting for the best visibility as you approach the landing site. The Sun angle should be 7-20 degrees behind your lunar module as you make your approach.

Of course there are other criteria related to the mechanics of spaceflight and some laws of physics which figure in site selection. Maybe you'd better hold up on that downpayment.

While the United States has put men on the moon on two occasions and planted the American flag there, it has not made any territorial claims, taking the position that space exploration is undertaken in peace for all mankind. Yet some "far seeing speculators" have made claims for property and franchises on the Moon and have probated these claims.

Since it is highly possible and very much in the NASA planning that the ordinary citizen can one day make it to the Moon without much more training than it now requires to ride as a passenger in a jetliner, maybe these speculators are smarter than most people think.

The numerals are shown by lighted segments of four 7-bar blue-green fluorescent tubes—similar to modern scoreboards out at the ball park. It is a luxury item.

Where Do We Go From Here —

Last week I suggested that we must act innovatively if we are going to continue as one of the great nations in the world. The word innovate connotes something new and different, and since there are very few really new things in the world, we will have to look for different approaches to our problems.

If we want to change the moral climate in our country, we must start with the young. Let's re-introduce the teaching of morals in our schools. We don't have to use a replica of the famous McGuffey's Readers, but we can certainly use a moral basis for teaching throughout our elementary and secondary schools.

We should re-establish state and local authorities to evaluate the reading materials, movies and television that reach our children. I think our higher courts may take a second look at obscenity and the presentation of violence if enough of the public protest.

Our laws governing violent crime and the supplying of hard drugs should be examined with the thought of making them more strict, not more lenient. The idea that individuals are not personally responsible for their actions may be psychologically sound but realistically impractical.

I have suggested reforms in the approach to our welfare state and I have suggested a relative wage guideline. If these concepts are to work effectively however, we must extend the idea to include not only a minimum annual wage, but also a maximum aggregate wage for all individuals. We will also have to revise inheritance tax laws to help create a more equitable distribution of wealth.

The problems and suggested solutions that I have presented represent the issues that I believe are most crucial for our nation. No one person or group of people can correct them alone; it will take the combined efforts of all of us if we are to succeed.

STATE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

103rd District — VOTE in the August 4th Primary

Paid Pol. Adv.

From Mrs. D. G. Stewart, Wiersdale, Fla.: I remember back in the early 1900's in Northern Ontario, an old farm. It was mostly wooded, but my father cleared land with the help of older brothers and sisters. Crops raised were wheat, oats, hay, corn, potatoes and turnips. A great garden was cared for by mother, who was famous in that area, until she was 85 years old.

The winters were cold, long and snowy. Around cozy fires in the evenings, we enjoyed life to the fullest. The range was mother's domain and from that good old stove came many a hearty meal. Breakfast consisted of oat meal, fried potatoes, eggs and meat, for the men folk needed strength for the hard work ahead.

Baking day was one of our favorites. Mother made 7 to 10 loaves of bread and a wonderful cake we called "fatty cake"—dough rolled and spread with butter and sugar, folded over and rolled and spread again, then folded and let rise, baked until the sugar melted and ran out in lovely streams turning brown and glazed.

Meat came from our own small herd of cattle. We sold meat and eggs at the store, twelve long miles away over sandy gravel roads that were fine until spring came. They made this trip twice a year, for needed supplies and to exchange eggs and butter for flour and sugar.
